

Haworth Soji Chair

Ergonomic desk chair

Designed to meet the demands of various workplace settings, from collaborative spaces to individual workstations, the Haworth Soji Chair offers the perfect solution for companies prioritising employee well-being. Its high-quality materials, precise craftsmanship, and 12-year, 24/7 warranty make it a durable and reliable choice for any workspace.

Haworth Soji Chair is noteworthy for its endless adjustability, allowing users to customise the chair to their specific preferences. Featuring adjustable armrests and lumbar support to promote good posture, you can be sure of comfort and wellbeing for all body types.

With sustainability at the forefront of Haworth's product design, the Soji task chair features a patented knit mesh back that uses a digital cutting process to minimise material waste. Making it best in class compared to traditional mesh chairs.

If you're in need of an ergonomic desk chair, the Haworth Soji Chair delivers unparalleled fully adjustable support and comfort for all your seating needs.
